—Oil market closed at $1.58.

—You can get it at Hopkins' store.

—Hopkins sells the clothing and shoes.

—Good morning! Did the election go to suit you?

—There are a few "I told you so's" in town this morning, as usual.

—Presching services in the Presbyterian next Sunday morning and evening at the usual hours.

—"Clothing of quality" is still the slogan at the Hopkins store. If in need we can fit you in all respects.

—Anna, the youngest daughter of Mrs. John Charleston, fell and broke her collar bone on Saturday last.

—The subject of Rev. W. O. Calhoun's sermon at the M. E. church next Sabbath evening will be "When People Kick."

—In shoes for men, ladies or children Hopkins takes the lead. None but the best makes and these at the least prices.

—Daughters were born on Monday to Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Dawson, and to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Yarnell, both families of the township.

—How about a new hat for the fall or winter? Hopkins sells the noblest and latest styles, and his stock is at its best just now.

—Salesman Wanted—To look after our interest in Forest and adjacent counties. Salary or commission. Address The Victor Oil Company, Cleveland, Ohio.

—We've got 'em all beat on clothing for men or boys. Our styles, quality and fit are correct, and the prices are the least of the argument. Hopkins.

—There are no tolls or messenger fees when you phone your orders for oil well shooting to the Keystone Torpedo Co., Pleasantville, Enterprise or Tidioute, Pa.

—Five farmers wanted to farm on the shores or by the month. Call on or write for further information to A. Cook Sons Co., or J. C. Rea, Farm Manager, Cooksburg, Pa.

—While the elections may not have gone to suit everybody, everybody will be glad they're over and that other topics will now have a show in the newspapers as well as between neighbors and friends.

—Attorney James Boggs, the senior member of the Clarion bar, died at his home in Clarion on Monday of last week, aged 84 years. He was admitted to the bar in Clarion in 1848, fifty-eight years ago.

—When you have a Wooltex garment you know you have the best in all respects. Hopkins' store is the only one in Tionesta where these superior garments can be had, and he is always well stocked up. Call.

—Phone your orders, at our expense, for well shooting, to either of our offices: Pleasantville, Enterprise or Tidioute, Pa. We are always at the other end of the line waiting for them. Keystone Torpedo Co., H. C. Mapes, Proprietor.

—Lost, strayed or stolen from the premises of Charles Russell, Kelleitville, Pa., a young setter dog, answering to the name of "Prince." Is white and black, with fore legs ticked. A liberal reward will be paid for his return to the owner above mentioned.

—The new dwelling which Attorney A. C. Brown is erecting opposite the court house, is now in the hands of the carpenters, who expect to have it enclosed within the next week or so, and it is probable Mr. Brown will eat his Christmas dinner under his own roof.

—"Horseshod seed one thousand dollars an ounce," is the quotation made by Luther Burbank, the California plant wizard. If you think there is any out in your garden, go and gather it, if not, you might raise some next year. Burbank has tried it, but says he has never even seen any.

—Charles M. Miller, whose parents live on the Peter Youngk farm, in Green township, was brought here Monday for safe keeping, having suffered a temporary aberration of the mind, supposed to be caused by over-study. He is aged about 21 years, and will return in a short time with his parents to their former home in Pittsburg.

—The Clarington W. C. T. U. held a pleasant and profitable meeting in U. B. church Saturday evening, Nov. 1, at which time Mrs. Work gave a very interesting and instructive report of the State T. U. convention. The male quartet several fine selections, also the L. took part in recitations and adding greatly to the meeting.—Supr.

—Franklin Spectator of last week following among its oil news of lion field, Venango county, the rifle mentioned being a former member citizen of Buck Mills, Pa.; "John Normie & Co., op- on the Westlake farm, which lies western boundary of the second l, are having splendid luck, but to follow the Irish driller, their hen the drill tapped the sand, flow at the rate of 4-bbls. a day, bers of the company are lug- and smiles a yard in length over as they have plenty of terrik on west and north of the farm."

—Wilson W. Porter, a woodsman aged thirty-four years and single, died suddenly Friday afternoon along a switch of the T. V. Ry between Lamona and Loretta. He was a brother of Mrs. John W. Black of this place, and Mr. and Mrs. Black went down Saturday, and with other relatives arranged for the burial at a cemetery near Tylersburg Monday.—Sheffield Observer.

—There is no change in the great gas gusher on the Keeler lease, near Westmore, The Pennsylvania Gas Co. has started to case on a well just opposite, and the Keelers have another well started a short distance from the Pennsylvania. When these wells are drilled in it is believed that it will relieve the pressure of the great gusher, and that it can then be brought under control.—Kane Republican.

—Butler county is considering a project to name all the roads of the county same as the streets of a city are named. The benefits of such a plan are numerous. The county would be mapped and all the roads marked on the map. A large number of the maps will be distributed and the people would learn the geography of their own county. The outlay would be small and the advantages many. Even the rural mail carriers who are supposed to know the roads would find their work simplified.

—Hallowe'en was celebrated in about the sanest manner in Tionesta last Wednesday that the oldest inhabitant can recall. No vandalism was reported in any quarter, but the boys had the best time ever, and the grotesque costumes and ludicrous maneuvers of the masqueraders were of such a character as to keep the average onlooker in a fit of merriment all evening. Such doings are not only harmless but really funny, and have a tendency to make life more tolerable. That's the way to celebrate All Hallowe'en.

—On the evening of the 25th ult. the Kelleitville Cornet Band and a number of Mr. Geo. R. Johnson's friends gave him a surprise by calling to help him to celebrate the fifty-ninth anniversary of his birth. The band furnished the gathering with some excellent music and presented their host with an elegant umbrella with the following inscription on the handle, "K. C. B. to G. R. J." Mr. Johnson also received a number of other beautiful presents, for which he wishes to extend his many thanks. After the gathering had passed away a few hours in amusements, they were served with a bounteous lunch and then departed wishing Mr. Johnson many more useful years of life.

—Some hunters while tramping through the woods, it is said, captured five partridges which were flopping around the ground in a helpless condition. Investigation showed that the birds had been feeling off a cluster of poke berries and were hopelessly intoxicated. Just what can be done to remedy this state of affairs remains to be seen. Doubtless the poke berry will have to go.—Ex. The poke berry will not have to go, neither will the pheasant. At any rate wherever the poke berry goes there the wily pheasant will go after them, for no wild morsel seems more toothsome to his pheasantish than this same berry. Whether he knows 'em for the intoxicating effect we eat not, but he likes 'em just the same.

Jay Range Badly Hurt.

Yesterday morning about nine o'clock Jay, the 17-year-old son of Leonard Range, of Stewart Run, met with a very serious accident, which may result in the loss of his left arm, if not his life. On his father's farm, a few rods from the house, a well is located, which is pumped by a gasoline engine. The boy, who had been in charge of the engine much of the time that it was in operation, had gone in the morning to start it up for the day, his father having gone to the election at the Fozle Farm, about a mile distant. In working about the engine the boy's coat-sleeve was caught in the cog gearing and his arm was drawn into the meshes, stopping the engine. With a great deal of effort with his free hand and feet the young man succeeded in reversing the engine sufficiently to release himself from his fearful predicament, and he made his way to the house. Dr. Dunn of this place was summoned and gave what relief was possible under the circumstances, and sent the young man to the hospital at Titusville. The doctor found the flesh of the arm close up to the shoulder almost entirely torn from the bone, leaving less than two inches of flesh on the top portion of the arm. No bones were broken, but the healing process will of necessity be very slow, and it may be that amputation will be necessary, which will be a very dangerous operation under the circumstances.

Mr. Shotts Recovers Horses.

Amos Shotts, of Tylersburg, drove through town Monday having in charge his team of fine grey horses which had been stolen from his barn on the night of September 24th last. The horses had evidently seen hard usage during their absence from home, being damaged to a considerable extent by hard driving and lack of care. The horses had been separated and were found 25 miles apart, but had not been sold. As a result of their recovery Charles Thomas, who at one time resided near Johnstown, and is well known to many Clarion county people, is in the Erie county jail at Erie, as is also Eugene Tallman, living near Edinboro, Erie county, who is suspected of being Thomas' accomplice. They will be removed to the Clarion county jail within the next few days, where they will be tried. The cases against them are said to be strong and conclusive.

It has cost Mr. Shotts already as much as his horses are worth to get them back, but the satisfaction of knowing that he has them again in his possession is at least some compensation for the trouble and outlay.

Much of the stuff stolen from Iesman Brothers' harness shop at Clarion a short time prior to the horse stealing, was recovered in the vicinity where the horses were found.

All Jurors Take Notice.

All Jurors summoned to appear at the November Term of Forest County Court, November 19th, 1906, are hereby notified not to appear as such, not having sufficient business to justify the calling of same. You are therefore excused from duty at the above stated Term.

As witness my hand and seal of said Court this 5th day of November, 1906.

[SEAL.] J. C. GREST, Clerk.

PERSONAL.

—F. A. Keller was down from Pigeon Saturday.

—Henry O'Hara came home from Pittsburgh last Saturday.

—William, Hart, Albert and John Lawrence came home to vote yesterday.

—Attorney C. M. Shawkey, of Warren, was transacting business in Tionesta Saturday.

—Harry Carson was up from Oil City to spend Tuesday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Carson.

—Henry Coleman and son are up from West Virginia on a visit to his mother, Mrs. Herman Coleman.

—Collector Joseph Green, of East Hickory, gave this office a pleasant call while in town Saturday.

—Harry Bankhead, who has been employed at Ridgway since the baseball season closed, came home to vote.

—Mrs. Albert Trent, with her little daughter, Helen, of Johnstown, Pa., is a guest of her sister, Mrs. L. Fulton.

—Charley Jamieson came up from Venango county to cast his vote for the straight Republican ticket yesterday.

—John Ritchey and Roy Bovard, State College students, were home to cast their votes at yesterday's hot election.

—James Conger came home from Oil City for a short visit and to cast his vote. Edward Conger spent Sunday with him in Oil City.

—Merchant Hopkins went to Pittsburgh today and will select his stock of goods for the holidays before returning, and it will be a fine display.

—H. W. Horner came home Monday after spending the summer at Allegheny Springs. His health is greatly improved and he has thrown away the cane.

—Wilbur Ledebur, medical student at the Western University at Pittsburgh, came home to cast his vote for Stuart and the straight Republican ticket.

—Paul Clark from Sharon, George Carson from East Brady, Newkirk Carson from Cleveland, Charles Wolf from Pittsburgh, Lester Holeman from Erie, came home to vote and to see their folks.

—Adam Emert, one of German Hill's oldest citizens, father of our townsman, County Commissioner Emert, is seriously ill of heart trouble at his home. Mr. Emert is upward of 82 years of age, and his physician considers the chances largely against his recovery.

—Among the many home-comers for election day we note these: Harry Davis from Kelleitville; J. N. Gerow from McAlmont Station, Butler county; H. B. Feit from Pittsburgh; M. A. Feit and James Canfield from Franklin; Tilden Hood from McKeesport; Harry Canfield from Tidioute; Howard Thomson from Oil City; James Wiles, John Campbell, Wes. Walford and George Thomas from Emlenton.

—John W. McCray, formerly Pennsylvania Railroad agent at Eagle Rock, and later at Tionesta, but now located at Orangeville, O., returned to the latter place today, after spending several days in his old haunts about Tionesta and vicinity, where he succeeded in bagging a goodly number of birds. He was accompanied by his son, who promises, some day, to "bring 'em down" with the old-time accuracy of the "old man."—Oil City Blizzard. Well, well! "Old-time accuracy" to be sure. Why, if it hadn't been for his son "Jim" where'd the "old man" be now?

Death of Mrs. John Carl.

Mrs. Susan Carl, wife of John Carl, died Sunday morning at their home near Newmanville, aged about 70 years. Mrs. Carl was the eldest of a family of eleven children born to Samuel and Jane Ohler. She was born at Scrubgrass, Pa., her parents moving soon after to a farm near Newmanville, where they resided until their death, a few years ago. Some two years ago Mrs. Carl suffered a stroke of paralysis and for the past year she has been a constant, uncomplaining sufferer, being confined to her bed the greater part of the time, death finally ending her suffering at the time mentioned. Early in life she gave her heart to God, and died in the promise of an everlasting immortality. Besides her husband she is survived by two sons and one daughter, as follows: John and Warren Carl at home, and Mrs. Mary Blum, wife of George Blum, of Trumans, this county; also four sisters and one brother—Mrs. R. C. Young, Mrs. John Gould, and Uriah Ohler, of Seneca, Pa.; Miss Lovice Ohler, of Franklin; and Mrs. H. M. Zahnizer, of Tionesta. Rev. Call, pastor of the Free Methodist church, of which deceased was a member, conducted the funeral services at the Lutheran church at Newmanville Tuesday afternoon, after which the body was laid in the Walters cemetery at that place.

Clarington.

A local institute was held here last Saturday and had a very interesting session. It was well attended by the citizens in general. Three of our teachers failed to get there for some reason. Hope they have a good excuse, as this is surely part of their work. Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Crossman, Mr. Lachner and all teachers took an active part.

On Saturday evening Mrs. Work gave the report of the State W. C. T. U. convention in the U. B. church. There was a large attendance. Mrs. Hill presided and gave a nice talk and Miss Flossie Braden, of Cooksburg, and Miss Mary Coon gave a recitation which was very well delivered. Mrs. Work's report showed she was at the convention all the sessions and showed what the W. C. T. U. as a state organization was doing. Dr. Brewer, J. C. Work, Jas. Cassatt and Mrs. Hindman furnished the music.

Some of our citizens went to Marienville to the rally and were somewhat disappointed. They claim they heard two good addresses and that is enough for one night.

Philo Dunkle and Wallace Davis are home to vote.

Miss Laura Dunkle is spending a few days at home.

—I had malaria two summers in succession and I got so bad I could not work. All the doctors here could not build me up. I had only taken Thompson's Blood-purifier and Kidney Cure for three days when I saw a great change. I think one more bottle will make me as strong as ever. N. A. Nason, Ashland, Wis. Dunn & Fulton.

DWELLING AND CHILD BURNED.

Four-Year-Old Boy Caught in Burning Building at Mayburg.

Another of those horrible and distressing fatalities for which our county of late years has been noted, occurred at Mayburg, Kingsley township, at an early hour on Monday morning, in which a little boy, aged four years, was burned to death. The family of Miles Harriger, an employe of the Watson Lands Lumber Co., and who occupied one of the company's frame houses at Mayburg, was awakened about four o'clock in the morning to the fact that their house was on fire, and that the flames had gained such headway that all avenues of escape were cut off except by an up-stairs window opening upon a porch roof. There was scarcely time for thought and the father gathered the family, consisting of the wife and four children, as quickly as possible and leaped out of the window with the babe, aged 2 months. He then helped his wife and Elmo, a son aged 8 years, to the ground; a daughter, Miss Goldie, aged 14 years, jumping out of the window after about all her night clothes had burned off.

The little four-year-old boy, Elliott, evidently was overcome by heat and smoke and could not escape, and was consumed by the fire. Only a small portion of the trunk of the body was found in the ashes after the fire had been subdued.

The daughter was unable to get to the room in which the other members of the family slept, and was obliged to make her escape through another window. Being unable to raise the window she broke it and jumped out, cutting her hands and feet badly on the jagged glass, but which after all proved the means of breaking her fall to the ground, a distance of 14 feet. She struck on her head, and besides her burns she was severely hurt in the fall, although her injuries are not likely to prove serious.

Mrs. Harriger, being a woman of nearly 200 pounds weight, was badly shaken by her leap from the porch roof, but not seriously injured. The father, the babe and the older boy were all more or less hurt, but not badly.

When the window of the room in which the parents and three smaller children were asleep was opened the flames followed the draft out, and it was necessary to go through this fire to escape.

This distressing affair has cast a gloom over the whole neighborhood, but the good people of Mayburg and vicinity are doing all in their power to alleviate the suffering and distress of the stricken family. Not a single article in the house was saved, but an insurance of $600 on his goods will cover Mr. Harriger's financial loss. The family formerly lived at Scotch Hill, Clarion county.

The loss on the building was partially covered by insurance.

Porkey Items.

Rev. Dr. Rich, the presiding elder of the Methodist church, who was holding communion service at Kelleitville over Sunday, accompanied the pastor, Rev. Mr. Montgomery, to Minister Sunday morning and preached an excellent sermon. We are always glad to have the elder with us.

Rev. Rich and Rev. Montgomery took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Gillespie on Sunday.

Mrs. Wm. Blum, of German Hill, is visiting her sons, Geo. Blum and family at Porkey and Chas. Blum and family at Gusher.

Miss Bertha Jordan, of Minister, is spending some time at the home of Mrs. Laffie Littlefield.

Mrs. Mute Jordan, Mrs. John Jordan and daughter Miss Bertha, all of Minister, called on friends in town on Friday.

We were royally entertained last Thursday evening by Mr. Ellis A. Carriger, of Richardsville, Pa., who is a graduate of the State Institution of Philadelphia for the Blind. He gave us a fine talk on how the children of the dark are taught in all the branches. He also rendered some fine vocal and instrumental music.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Swatzfager spent Saturday visiting friends at Iron City.

Miss Lois Welsh was a Warren visitor on Saturday.

J. A. Hart, of Oil City, spent a part of last week in town.

Messrs. Frank and James Littlefield were home from Nansen over Sunday visiting their parents and other friends. Wonder what the real attraction is that brings them home so frequently.

Miss Edna Wilcox, of Iron City, who has been spending the past two months with Mrs. John Littlefield and Mrs. Earl Downey, was a Sheffield visitor last Friday.

Mrs. James Welsh, who has spent the past two weeks in Sheffield overseeing the building of her house, has returned home.

A. M. Hunter, of Pigeon, called upon our school on Monday.

Benj. Kinney, who has been working at Sheffield the past summer, has returned home.

Mrs. Thomas Miller who has been on the sick list for the past two weeks, is improving slowly.

Mayburg.

Mr. Reitzel returned to his home at Williamsport.

Ben Mercer and family are visiting at Hallton.

The new band hall, located in Hillside Park, is under way, and when completed will be a substantial structure 20x50 feet.

Mr. Zuber and wife, of Williamsport, are visiting with their son, Geo. Zuber, of this place.

A Hallowe'en party was held at the residence of M. H. Harriger. The crowd and supper were simply immense.

J. A. Ruffner is the happy possessor of a brand new boy.

Mrs. Caldwell is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Ruffner.

A. W. Richards, of Warren, was in our town over Sabbath.

Mrs. VanMarter is visiting relatives in Marienville.

Chas. Deshner's reputation as a bear hunter is becoming quite notorious, he having captured two bears in as many weeks.

Miss Martha Cook has returned to her home at Cooksburg.

Mrs. West, of Kelleitville, was calling on friends in our town the past week.

—All crooks should be pressed in straight-jackets.

Death of Rowland Cobb.

Rowland Cobb, a former well known resident of Tionesta, died at his home at Clarksburg, W. Va., on Friday, October 26, 1906, at 8 o'clock a. m. In a letter to a friend here his daughter, Mrs. Mary (Cobb) Scott, gives the following particulars of her father's illness and death, which was caused by gall stones after an illness of about 36 hours. The letter reads:

"He had an attack very much the same only not as hard, about two months ago, and has never been in good health since, although he was able to attend to his business at his office, and on last Wednesday evening about 4:30 he was brought home in a cab, very sick. We called his doctor immediately and on Thursday morning had another doctor in consultation and both pronounced his trouble gall stones, and didn't give us very much hope of his recovery. We had a trained nurse and did all that could be done for him. He suffered terribly all the time up to within an hour of his death, when he rested so easy we could hardly tell just when death claimed him. He was unconscious nearly all the time and never spoke but a few words. Mamma is keeping up nobly, but looks so bad. She misses papa so much. Mr. Scott and I will go to live with mamma for this winter."

Rowland Cobb was aged about 63 years, and was born, we believe, in Sincinville, N. Y. About the year 1868 he came with his father to this county, and engaged in lumbering, their first operations being on the Clarion river, afterwards transferred to Green township. He was an intelligent, genial and most companionable man. After a residence of several years in Tionesta he removed, about 16 years ago, to West Virginia, where the family has since made their home. Besides his wife he is survived by two sons, John and Joseph, and one daughter, Mrs. Scott.

From the Clarksburg, W. Va., daily Telegraph of October 26, the following additional facts are gathered: Rowland Cobb, one of the prominent lumbermen of the State, died at his home 137 Terra Cotta street, Friday morning at 8:10 o'clock. He is survived by a widow and three children, Mrs. Richard Scott, wife of the chief of police of Clarksburg; John Cobb, of Little Rock, Ark., and Joseph Cobb, of Paris, Ill. For the past year Mr. Cobb made his home in this city and for the past twelve or fourteen years he was engaged in the lumber business in this state and did quite an extensive business. He was a native of Pennsylvania, having been brought up at Tionesta. At the time of his death he was the president of the Krebs Lumber Company of this city. Arrangements for the funeral will not be made until word is received from the two sons who are in the West, but it will likely take place Sunday.

In Time of Peace.

In the first months of the Russia-Japan war we had a striking example of the necessity for preparation and the early advantage of those who, so to speak, "have shingled their roofs in dry weather." The virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our greatest men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared to successfully combat the first cold you take? A cold can be cured much more quickly when treated as soon as it has been contracted and before it has become settled in the system. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of colds and it should be kept at hand ready for instant use. For sale by Dunn & Fulton.

—For twelve years I suffered with a sore foot. All the doctors failed to cure it. San-Cura Ointment removed the pain, drawing out pus and making a complete cure in two weeks. Thomas J. Kerr, Union City, Pa. San-Cura Ointment, 25 and 50c. Dunn & Fulton.
